For Those I Love and For Those Who Love Me . . .

When I am gone, release me, let me go
I have so many things to see and do.
You mustn't tie yourself to me with tears,
Be happy that we had so many years.
I gave you my love. You can only guess
How much you gave to me in happiness
I thank you for the love you have shown,
But now it's time I traveled on alone.
So grieve a while for me if grieve you must,
Then let your grief be comforted by trust.
It's only for a while that we must part
So bless the memories within your heart.
I won't be far away, for life goes on
So if you need me, call and I will come.
Though you can't see or touch me, I'll be near,
And if you listen with your heart, you'll hear,
All of my love around you soft and clear.
And then when you must come this way alone,
I'll greet you with a smile, and "Welcome Home".

A TIME OF GATHERING

It is appointed unto all once to die. There is a time to be born and a time to die. One generation passes away and another comes. All flesh is as grass, and all its beauty is like the flower of the field. The grass withers, the flowers fades; the Word of our God stands forever.

HYMN OF FAITH: Blessed Assurance

PSALTER: Psalm 23

Almighty and everlasting God, Lord of life and death, we acknowledge you in all our ways and in all the events that befall us. In quietness and confidence we have gathered here for these last rites of faith and love. Lift us above the shadow of mortality into the light and comfort of your presence. Raise our thoughts from this changeful life to the calm eternity in which you dwell, and to those things which know no change save from glory to glory. Amid the decay of visible things draw nigh to us, Holy Comforter, and speak your word of peace; through Jesus Christ our Lord.
AMEN
