

It was mom taught me to dance. I was prepping for my first high school date. She demonstrated the guy's step for me, a simple side-back-rock step, practiced to the music of Elvis the King; "Hound Dog" as I recall.

That simple combination step has served me reliably for nearly fifty years.

It is not even past."

*...How many people thought you'd never change?
But here you have. It's beautiful.
It's strange.

Strangest Moment" ~ Kate Light*

It is best not to begin with Adam and Eve. Original sin is baffling, even for the most sophisticated minds. Besides, children are frightened of naked people and apples. Instead, start with the talking snake. Children like to hear what animals have to say. Let him hiss for a while and tell his own tale. They'll figure him out in the end. Describe sin simply as those acts which cause suffering and leave it at that. Steer clear of musty confessionals. Children associate them with outhouses. Leave Hell out of the discussion. They'll be able to describe it on their own soon enough. If they feel the need to apologize for some transgression, tell them that one of the offices of the moon is to forgive.

“If ever there is tomorrow when we’re not together...
there is something you must always remember.
You are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem,
and smarter than you think. But the most important thing is, even if we’re apart... I’ll always be with you.”
~ Winnie the Pooh
(by A. A. Milne)

The Lord’s Prayer

Our Father who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done,
On earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread,
And forgive us our trespasses,
As we forgive those who trespass against us.
Lead us not into temptation, But deliver us from evil.
~ Matthew 6:9-15

“.... she conceived life as a road down which one traveled;
an easy enough road through a broad country, and that one’s destination was there from the very beginning, a measured distance away, standing in the ordinary light like some plain house where one went in and was greeted by respectable people and was shown to a room where everything one had ever lost or put aside was gathered together, waiting.”
~ Marilynne Robinson (American Writer)
