

Generations at the Gate.

The Granddaughters reflection of lessons grandpa Ken taught us.

1. The animals always eat first
2. Fox news is the ideal background for an afternoon nap.
3. You can in fact get a ticket for driving too slow.
4. Work hard and do honest work.
5. Its ok to tell the same story over, and over again as long as you're self-aware.
6. A house isn't complete without a dog or two.
7. Life is a hell of a ride, and it goes by quick.
8. Its ok to call every hardworking young man that enters your house your grandson.
9. Love thy neighbor but don't sell your property to that one down the road.
10. Don't forget to fall off of something every once in a while, to keep everyone on their toes.
