

MOTHERS DAY

I see her in your eyes
the love that we all share.
The common bond that holds us close
the memories of her care.

Get VERY close to the mirror.
She is always in your eyes.
See! She is way down deep.
Only the body dies.

Beyond the cornea, the iris, the pupil,
beyond the DNA.
She is in you all the time.
Her soul will find a way.

She looks lovingly at you.
She is in your stare.
The best of her "Lives" each day
She's not a headstone. "She's right there!"

What looks back at you?
All her love, her prayers, her smiles so bright
It's the best of your mom.
Wanting, as she always has, to make your burden light.

What's in the mirror?
God's representative of your mom's best part.
The Bible says, You're the image of God
She's always in your heart.

Spend a while as you gaze
at the framed mirror of life.
Let God and the memory of your mom,
Help you feel less strife.

"Smile at her",
and your mom smiles back at you.
I don't know why we look above,
when your mom and God are in you
with all of their love.
