

God saw you getting tired
 and a cure was not to be.
 So He put His arms around you and whispered, "Come with me."
 With tearful eyes we watched you suffer and saw you fade away.
 Although we couldn't bear to lose you,
 we could not ask you to stay.
 A golden heart stopped beating,
 hard-working hands laid to rest.
 God broke our hearts to prove to us
 He only takes the best.

Remember Me

Remember my life with your smiles, not your tears,
 and measure my life by my friends, not my years,
 my life on this planet was near perfect indeed,
 God's grace was sufficient, He met every need.
 My family, so faithful, so loyal, such love!
 I see now your source was from God above.
 My new home is awesome, no tears and no sorrow.
 We've transcended time here, our reunions tomorrow.
 For now you see dimly, but soon face to face,
 His love is so pure here, His wonder and grace.
 You'll feel so at home, you'll never say never our families united, we'll be peaceful forever.
 So remember my life with your smiles, not your tears and measure my life by God's grace, not my years.
