The Obituary

Sa'Kye Jackson arrived on April 25, 2022. A blessing laid softly into the arms of his parents, Shena Mackey, and Travon Jackson. Although Sa'Kye was with his family for a moment, that's all the time he needed to change the lives of those he touched forever. Our family is forever changed and forever grateful to have spent this brief, but incredibly meaningful, time with Sa'Kye.

He is survived by his father; Travon Jackson, brother; Si'Jhon Brooks, great grandmothers; Sheila Mackey, Marion Howard and Gloria Jackson, grandmothers; Tonya Mackey and Tracy Kojo, grandfather; Tracey Jackson and a host of aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room
Why cry for a soul set free.

Miss me a little, but not too long
And not with your head bowed low,
Remember the love
that we once shared
Miss me, but let me go.

For this is a journey that we must all take
And each must go alone,
It's all a part of the Master's plan
A step on the road to home.

When you are lonely and sick of heart
Go to the friends we know,
And bury your sorrows
in doing good deeds
Miss me, but let go.

*I am the resurrection and the life: He that believeth in me though he were dead yet shall he live.
And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.*

John 11:25-26

We little knew the day that God was going to call your name.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.

It broke our hearts to lose you
But you didn't go alone.
For part of us went with you
The day God called you home.

You left us peaceful memories.
Your love is still our guide,
And though we cannot see you
You are always by our side.

Our family chain is broken and nothing seems the same, but as God calls us one by one the chain will link again.
