Gone from My Sight by Henry Van Dyke

I am standing on the sea shore. A ship spreads her sails to the morning and starts for the ocean. I stand watching her until she fades on the horizon, and someone at my side says, "She is Gone"

*"Gone Where" The lost of sight is in me, not in her. Just at the moment when someone says, "She is gone," there are others who are watching her coming. Other voices take up the glad shout, "Here she comes!"
And that is dying.*
