

To Honi

I miss you. I have been so very proud to be your Mother. I enjoyed and loved to see the man you grew to be. I Love your strength, love devotion to family, loved ones and friends. You were a hard worker. Love your spirit for life. I love how totally devoted you are towards your children even through GG was wrapped around all Daddy's fingers. I love that because that showed you took time and you listened to all your kids. One word from you and there was a change. I love that you were your children's hero. My heart breaks at the knowledge that I cannot call you, cannot hear you say, Mom I love you. You called late one night a few months ago to tell me thanks for being there with you all through this journey with your cancer. I told you then the pleasure was all mine. I told you my love was unconditional like yours was for me, your brothers, and sisters. This letter could go on, but I want and need to say my Precious Honi, my days are not the same without you. I'm here and will love, cherish and protect your family almost as good as you would. We prayed together a lot these past years. I am sure God welcomed you home.

I love you always and forever, My precious Honi I love you Mom

I love you, Mom

POEM FOR THE ICE PRINCE

You were here you were there,

But somehow you were everywhere and there for everyone

Smile as bright as the sun heart as big as the world, there is nothing you wouldn't do for your family, your son, your girls

Hustler by day, family oriented by night, give you any task and you give it your best fight

There's nothing no one can compare to the Brother, Son, Husband, Friend

We had here, You brought light to any situation, just like the sun.

You gave your family hope

Because to you they were number 1, the dedication, devotion and love

You were special, so the Lord called you above, The hugs and kindness will be truly missed, that's why we gather together today for our final hug and kiss, this is not Good Bye

Until we meet again, I love you, Brother, Father, Son, Husband, Friend, you will always be the world's best Ice man,
